Job Description

 As a top graduate with ideas and ambitions, you start the 18-month trainee program with the focus "Inhouse Consulting", deepen your professional knowledge and expand your skills in the course of the program through project assignments in other areas. After all, we not only want to give you a broad, diverse insight into our organization, but also the opportunity to leave your comfort zone and get to know new topics in order to realize your full potential.

 In addition, the following tasks await you:

- Active participation in the focus area on current topics such as digitization, transformation and agile working
- Development and implementation of own projects within the framework of "Magenta Friday" in cooperation with your trainee colleagues
- Completion of a project assignment abroad
- Carry out short-term customer service
- Participation in individual workshops and training

Job requirements

 In addition to a successfully completed bachelor's or master's degree, your personality captivates with its enthusiasm for innovation, curiosity and the courage to question some facts. They also fulfill the following requirements:

- Meaningful internships and / or initial professional experience with a focus on consulting or strategy or transformation
- International experience
- Social commitment and / or entrepreneurial project work
- Fluent English (Level C1) and German (Level B1)

 Start Date: Quarterly
 Please note: the position may be closed earlier if all quotas are filled, thus please apply as soon as possible.

 We accept your application in German and English.
